Indiana Bats - Fantastic, Flying, Fleeting

(Revised) by student created by Jon and Clay of DePauw High School, located in Greencastle, IN.

The Indiana bat, scientifically known as Myotis sodalis, is a species of bat native to Indiana. These majestic creatures have called the Indiana state home for millennia, but in the modern day, they're dying. Indeed, the poor Indiana bats are in imminent danger of extinction, and for the sake of everyone, their status must be saved.
